1. Ascending

[Instrumental]

2. Starlight Reverie facing the constellations high above the sky if I could fly along and sway the milky way when venus has its row, great bear and polar star I see them dimming from afar, is's so bizarre

(pre-chorus)
starry sky so come by forgotten traces so nigh your beauty repeals the laws of time

(chorus) my straight reverie in my sparkling eyes just take me through the grand bright moonlight night your eyes can only see what your heart truly feels then it is time to turn and flee into my starlight reverie see tails of comets glowing in the outer sphere red giants in their spectral light, tonight the solar system of orion there appears lightyears away from mother earth, a star's birth

(pre-chorus)

(chorus)

(bridge)

3. The Palace

a place of power's rising a place so deep within in that stormy night when I came in the fence that penned me in in times when my heart tried to flee from the serpent camouflage's melody

the corridors I'm walking the walls point waits at me the pictures in their ancient frames have eyes but will not see

(chorus)
one silent scream came straight into my dream am I still here in these unwritten pages of stories the spoken word is often quite unheard in this old gallery of splendid unbroken memory I can hear the palace in your heart will grow uncovered the rivers will flow plastic balls of forlorn memories rolling on and on for one more wish you're yearning and the're gone the valleys of your soul they still can let the light shine in the symmetry of your heart grows within

the mourning hours are history in my enchanted land the belfry dies away down here the road shall have no end

(chorus)

for years I've tried to feel for years I've turned the wheel for all that's said and done it is so clear the crystal moments shine above eternal nights of fear in here

(chorus)

4. A Moment Of Life

farewell yesterday when we were young like a flower in the desert sand so transient the cycle of life

(chorus)
within a moment of time within a while of a years' decline the brightest of stars above in night-time skies divine

here it is an everflowing stream when they are coming to redeem us from the night that never sees the day

(chorus)
and when the years passing by noone will answer noone will cry the solace in sea of tears into a new sunshine

(bridge)
glory ascending from days neverending unfold your dreams right now

(chorus)

5. Fly On A Rainbow Dream

(intro-chorus) fly, forever fly along
let your wings just breathe the air tonight to foreign skies fly on a rainbow dream she's straying from reality her imagination leaves her mind like a falcon she is passing her old home she's calling the spirits up there she's freeing herself from clandestine eyes awaiting brightened skies

I will bring this dream to you believe I will lead you everywhere

(chorus) fly, fly on a rainbow dream just glide into the gleaming sky eternally away from staring eyes

she enters horizons unseen away from the whispers of the night in a reverie she's heading on and on she's passing elysian fields ascending on wings of a glorious ride she feels the falcon's pride

(pre-chorus)

(chorus)

is it stardust of time in these pictures of infinity? all the memories appearing one by one are reflections in me

(b-chorus)

fly, fly, fly spread your wings and touch the sky (high), high, high one more time I face the falcon eye to eye before the rainbow's fading then gold is at the end right on your dream through time forevermore, fly on a rainbow dream

6. Color My Sky

I believe in the secret path that's hiding from our eyes, the night-time skies are weaving a web of haze golden shores are so far away from silver dreams arcades cast platinum shades way back to the early days

the stardust angel spreads his wings and rides the winds of time touched by the moonlight's sonant symphony

(chorus)

forsaken am I
from out of the shadows there's a light to rely unbroken wings the rising of kings to a new age we're waiting for the dawning of springs

I believe in calling spirits of the trees per chance, we're staying in trance we summon the coming age listening to the tunes of whales and dolphins here our seas, mistreated and squeezed will turn into furious rage

(pre-chorus)

(chorus)

(chorus)

7. Into The Light

when the lake of despair is so serene when the tempest in your heart's breaking in still there is no horizon here through troubled waters I swim the saving sheet-anchor will appear before I'm drowning in rapids near

(chorus)

so what if the darkness rules your mind just follow into the light and what if your whole world stays behind it's robbing you of your sight I'll find my way back to the light in the mirror the shades of the pictures fade look behind the charading games they played take those chains here away from me don't pour some oil into the fire shake off the past and you will agree will-o'-the-wisps they will be never leading me

(chorus)

don't dream of life just live your dream and use the power of believing I am eternal, into the light I ride into the cosmic force beyond the other side I am a traveler in time and I will find my way back into my way back into the light right into the light I ride way back into the light

8. Suspiria

in the shades of night this phalanx is our home we're hanging on a string we're waiting below electric skies in times of need we call she is taking care she loves us all do dark horses dream of cybertronic sheep? do we fear she's laying back to sleep?

(chorus)

ancient suspiria save our prayers give us a sign tonight illusions can deceive but we're dying when you leave lead us into the light in a night like this it all seems so obscure between the walls of dust and velvet dreams behind this plastic moon reality can be the sweetest moment of our lone damned colony

(chorus)

(chorus)

(b-chorus)

where is the final end?
save our holy land
your appearance is a mystery
shining in energy
suspiria
guide our colony
suspiria
our virgin goddess of a thousand souls suspiria
where is the final end?
save our holy land

9. Winter Winds

the fallen leaps are withered the cycle of the seasons takes it's turn the northwinds blowin' over the land the heart of spring is waiting to return and the glacial winds are breathing one more time for the birds of passage now the hours chime

(chorus)

the winter winds are leaving desolation seems to have a meanwhile end by a long forgotten feeling I believe in the dream of a summer's eve the snow-capped mountains gleaming like the ocean in aurora fades away the sunlight's streamin' over the land to the rays of sunshine flowers like to sway birds of springtime catch a rainbow in the night hear 'em whisper from the trees that yearn for light

(chorus)

the summer's eve is there there's magic in the air and the neverending story of the seasons will go on in the tears of autumn rain leaves are falling in the lane to announce the soon return of glacial winter winds

10. Arcana

here where the dream of eden waits the rivers running easy in their valleys they are slumbering there the mysteries reveal by the clearness I can feel and an island in the stream appears before my eyes

I am hunting lonesome traces in the sand and someone speaks my name from far away the ruins of yesterday will disappear I will reach for the sources of light as we are all finding our new hemisphere I am turning just yearning to feel feel your dreams, don't toss them away

(chorus)
ancient myth arcana, elysian seas of time the stones of wisdom shine again, the moonlight hides the rhyme in long gone days of yore, one thousand years before the odyssey was in our dreams, arcana we explore here I can feel the inner flame could forget what we became and the false mirages can't deceive, deceive me no more

I am facing countless shadows in despair but I won't follow them into the gloomy calm aside of light thorns of roses that I feel, secrecy under the seal hear the tolling of the bell, bring me under your spell see the mysteries in twilight they're turning away from darkness to light (into infinity) here where the dreams of eden's near leaving to a distant sphere to elysian seas of time we ride I am longing for infinity arcana, arcana

(chorus)

tonight this journey seals my fate far beyond the open gate to the secret places never seen before for this final odyssey into arcana, arcana
